NIELE IVEY – SPECIAL TRIBUTE

Niele Ivey became just the fourth Karen & Kevin Keyes Family Head Women's Basketball Coach on April 22, 2020, and the first black female head coach in the history of Notre Dame. Ivey has been the common link to all nine of the program's Final Four appearances (two as a player and seven as an assistant coach), spending a combined 17 years on Notre Dame's campus before accepting the head coaching position.

The Irish went 386-55 (.875) during Ivey's time patrolling the sidelines as an assistant. In fact, Notre Dame's recent decade of dominance (2010-19) had Ivey's handprints all over it – no other program had produced more trips to the national title game (six), while the Irish also posted the third-most wins in that span as well (339).

That decade also consisted of 14 conference championships (eight regular-season plus six tournament titles split between the BIG EAST and ACC), seven Final Fours and a 2018 national championship. Not to mention, Ivey helped develop the likes of All-Americans Skylar Diggins, Jewell Loyd, Lindsay Allen and Arike Ogunbowale.

Ivey expanded her basketball prowess when she stepped away from Notre Dame to accept an assistant coaching position with the Memphis Grizzlies for the 2019-20 season. Ivey proved to be a true trailblazer, becoming the ninth active female coach in the NBA. Ivey helped develop a young team, with a new coaching staff, into a playoff contender, while working with the likes of Ja Morant and Jaren Jackson.

As a player, Ivey donned the Irish uniform from 1996-01, leading the program to its first national title in her hometown of St. Louis in 2001. In fact, she was the first Irish point guard to earn All-America honors. After graduating, Ivey went on to play five seasons in the WNBA, beginning with her selection by the Indiana Fever, and later joined the Irish staff in 2007. Then the rest was history.
